Date: December 8 , 2021

Time: 1200 -1600 hours

Location: RIMPTA, CCRI Lincoln Campus
1762 Louisquisset Pike
Lincoln, R.I. 0286

This course is designed to be a refresher of the core principles framing the San Jose Model of field training and offer a round table discussion on the current state of field training for Rhode Island agencies. The first part of the course will focus on reviewing the central tenets of field training under the San Jose Model, while the rest of the session will be allocated to a facilitated discussion, and sharing of insights, on the current state of field training in the state.

The ideal attendee for this program is the seasoned field training officer that might need to brush up on the strategies associated with the San Jose field training model, and/or the very active field training officer looking to both learn and share what they are seeing on the road; what's working, what is a challenge, and how can the Academy and its FTO training program better align with the needs of the field.

Please note that if you are attending the December 9, 2021 FTO Coordinator's School and have not been certified as an FTO, this course is a prerequisite to the December 9th training.

The instructor for this program will be members of the Academy's Master FTO cadre.
